

FOUR GIVEN BADGES FOR MARKSMANSHIP

Troop 39 Sends Two of Winners in War Department Tests.

Four more Boy Scouts in the District have been awarded marksmanship merit badges, and the War Department Junior Marksmanship label button. The examinations for these credentials were given at the Center Market Armory range last Wednesday afternoon.

The Scouts who passed, and their scores, were: Orville Walsh, of Troop 39, score 42 standing, and 42 prone; Samuel V. Hardy, of Troop 5, score 38 standing and 42 prone; Devere Weeden, of Troop 39, score 40 standing and 42 prone; and Donald H. Stewart, of Troop 21, score 43 standing and 43 prone.

Thirty members of the McKinley Manual Training High School and the Western High School Clubs, commenced practice for the season at the Center Market range last Wednesday afternoon. The object of the practice is to determine the selection of rifle teams to compete in the national high school competition for the War Department trophy and the championship of the United States.

The boys were instructed in the practice by several Marine Corps experts, who were present in connection with the supervision of the National Rifle Association of America.

FOUR PATROLS WILL MEET SATURDAYS

Troop 16 Votes for Single Long Session Instead of Two Short Ones.

Hereafter meetings of Boy Scout Troop 16, will be conducted on Saturday evenings. This decision was made at a meeting in headquarters, Ingram Memorial Congregational Church, Tenth street and Massachusetts avenue northeast, last night, at the suggestion of Scoutmaster Henry C. Malinka, who thought that a gathering of about three hours on Saturday would be more beneficial than a brief session on each of two evenings as heretofore.

The troop is now divided into four patrols which have assumed the following names: Fox, Wolf, Eagle, and Lion. Of the former, Scout A. Wenzel has been appointed leader, and Scout Cullen leader of the latter. The other leaders are Scouts E. E. Saunders, of the Wolf patrol, and Carl Tyler, of the Eagle patrol.

SCOUT COUNCIL TOLD OF ORDER'S GROWTH

Commissioner Martin Opposes Another Joint Camp With Baltimore Bodies.

Reports for the past year, and recommendations for the ensuing year occupied the greater attention at the annual meeting of the local council of Boy Scouts at headquarters in the District Building.

Several changes in the yearly routine were made, among which the scout year shall end on the last day of June of each year, and the annual election of officers shall take place on the third Tuesday of May. An announcement was made that the estimated budget for the next six months was $2,553.63.

The following are the District officers: President, Arthur C. Moses; vice president, Cuno H. Rudolph; Henry P. Blair, Cuno H. Livingstone; treasurer, Paul Dulany; commissary, Edgar S. Martin; field executive, Stephen S. Applin; executive committee, Arthur C. Moses, Milton E. Allen, E. P. Eickhoff, Henry P. Blair, Albert M. Chesley, Dr. P. P. Claxton, Paul Dulany, Dr. Harry M. Kaufman, Stephen E. Martin, Theodore W. Noyes, Cuno H. Rudolph and James E. West.

Commissioner Martin's report of the year's work, said:

"The scout movement in the District has continually been growing, although the report of the year seems to indicate a falling off of the number of scouts. This was caused by the new enrollment plan of the national council, which put an enrollment fee of 25 cents on each scout. Only the boys who have paid the fee are accounted for in the report, but a great number of boys are engaged in scout work that are not registered. The year shows: Troops, 32; local council numbers, 25; scout masters, 2; assistant scoutmasters, 20; merit badge faculty members, 60; scouts, 832; first class scouts, 127; second class scouts, 237; tenderfoot scouts, 472; merit badges awarded, 224; merit badges applied for, 1,685.

Six Life Scouts.

Of the total scouts in the District there are six life scouts, each with five merit badges; six star scouts, each with ten merit badges; and ten eagle scouts, each with twenty-one merit badges.

Commissioner Martin said that the local organization was investigated by the bureau of municipal research, New York city, and reported the District organization as being one of the most economical and best organized in the United States.

"Since the last meeting," he continued, "our work has focused on camping activities and reorganization of our whole system of administration. The spring months were taken up with improving our personnel and site. A complete water system, consisting of an artesian well, a cistern, well house, force pump and engine, a pine line of 800 feet, and a 1,200-gallon storage tank were installed; a mess hall, 20 by 70 feet, with an office 20 by 20 feet; a kitchen, 20 by 25 feet, and a room in the basement, was built; a boat house 12 by 26 feet; a poultry house, 14 by 16 feet, and 100 rods of fence were permanent improvements made on our site. The total valuation of the site and improvements is now $3,500. The total budget of the camp estimated last March was $3,500. Of this Washington was responsible for $1,500, and Baltimore $1,500. Fees from scouts covered $2,300 of the amount. The balance was placed in the budget by the two councils, each paying $200.

Have Camp Assets.

"While we were able to maintain our camp without a deficit, I do not feel that the camp was a success in every respect, maintained as it was in conjunction with Baltimore, and under no conditions would I favor any such combination in the future. In addition to a large motor boat, valued at $3,500, we own a twenty-six foot boat, with a 5-horsepower engine, an 18 by 36 foot scow, and six row boats. The year's equipment is worth $2,750. One year ago we were in debt at the close of our camp, and had no assets; this year we find ourselves with $400 worth of assets over and above the outstanding obligations, which were made necessary by the permanent improvements."

In connection with the camping problem, Commissioner Martin dwelt briefly upon the White Mountain forest expedition last summer, and quoted a statement made by Scoutmaster H. I. Bowles, who was in charge.

Following the reading of Scoutmaster Bowles' report, which gave a detailed account of the trip to the White mountains, Commissioner Martin announced that "on account of the growing debt upon the White Mountain forest expedition last summer, it was necessary for much detail work in the past year to go on. To overcome this, Stephen Applin, former commissioner of Delaware and Montgomery county, Pa., has been engaged to assist with the work of the department, and to him will be assigned the duty of carrying out the policy of the department regarding Boy Scout work."

"To further facilitate the work, the city has been divided into three sections, with R. L. Maschmeyer in charge of district 1; H. H. Grogan in charge of district 2, and James L. Kidwell in charge of district 3.

"It is pleasing to report the growing interest in Boy Scout work on the part of citizens of the District. Already six citizens' associations have appointed special committees to further the work, and our plan is to have 1,500 scouts inside of six months."

Further improvements of the camp site at Camp Archibald Butt, Chesapeake Beach, were announced by the commissioner. A telephone system, an adequate dock, twelve tent houses, each twelve by fourteen feet, and a dairy house are additional projects which will be completed at the next camp opening.

Thirty-two boys, who have applied for the scoutmaster rank, will be trained for leadership.

TROOP ONE TO GIVE ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Year-old Organization Busy With Belgian Relief—Plan Camping Trip.

The first anniversary of Girl Scout Troop 1 will be celebrated about December 5. Mrs. Giles S. Rafter, who was the first Girl Scout captain, and who organized the first troop in the District, will give an anniversary party. Invitations will be forwarded to all other troops in the District, and their friends, so that a very large attendance is expected.

This troop is at work making clothing for the Belgian refugees. Five dresses have already been shipped to the women of that country. Another interest of the members of this troop was the giving of supplies to a destitute family.

During the Thanksgiving holidays the troop will go on a camping trip. See M. Shalick was enrolled at the last meeting, and will be enrolled as a tenderfoot scout next week.

Miss Grace Kendall, captain, gave an entertainment last Thursday evening at the Peck Memorial Chapel, in Georgetown. A short address was delivered by Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, and a lecture on the "Yellowstone Park," with radiophone views, was given by the Rev. H. B. Angus, the "cowboy parson."

An operetta, entitled "The Quarrel of Flowers," was given by members of Troop 5, of Takoma Park, in Trinity parish hall last Friday evening. Part of the money obtained at this entertainment will be forwarded to Europe to aid the wounded soldiers.

Haste Was Justified.

Because of the emergency existing in its hasty creation and establishment the War Risk Insurance Bureau of the Treasury Department acted within the law, when it purchased supplies in the open market, instead of by competitive bids through the General Supply Committee, according to a decision rendered by Comptroller of the Treasury Doney.

CAPITOL HEIGHTS TROOP ISSUES CALL

All Boys Who Wish to Enroll as Scouts Invited to Meet Thanksgiving Day.

All boys who wish to enroll with Troop No. 1, of Capitol Heights are invited to report at the troop's headquarters, Capitol Heights Congregational Church, on Thanksgiving Day, before 10 a. m.

An announcement to this effect was made by Scoutmaster E. H. Hamilton, at a meeting of the troop Thursday evening. The troop will have headquarters at 10 o'clock Thanksgiving Day for a hike into nearby woods, to return about 3 o'clock.

Twelve Scouts are expected to be registered as members of the troop by December 1. That this troop will take part in the division scout rally to be conducted December 18, has been assured by Scoutmaster Hamilton.

At the meeting Thursday, Field Executive Stephen S. Applin and Deputy Field Executive James L. Kidwell, who are in charge of this division, were factors to the troop. Mr. Applin explained the value of the Boy Scout to the community, and Mr. Kidwell outlined some of his plans which needed co-operation. The meeting adjourned following a recitation of the scout oath, and the singing of the national anthem.

COMMITTEE WILL PASS ON APPLICANTS

Troop 47 Appoints Body to Scan All Nominations for Membership.

From now on Boy Scout Troop No. 47, will have a membership committee to consider all prospective members. This committee will be composed of the troop committee members, and the commissioned officers of the troop. The organization of the membership committee was brought about at a meeting of the troop in the new headquarters, St. Andrew's parish hall, Fifteenth and R streets northwest. Since the enrollment of Scouts Walter Jex, first class, and Powell, second class, several days ago, the troop has twenty-one members, all of whom are registered, and are in full standing with local council of the Boy Scouts.

On the evening of November 12, the troop gathered at headquarters and marched over to Twelfth street and Massachusetts avenue northwest, where they visited Troop No. 38.

According to assertions made by members of both troops, an enjoyable evening was the result of the visit.

Last Saturday the troop hiked along the Virginia road, the program being to a point near Chain Bridge, where the boys completed the "five-by-ten" test, which was begun several weeks ago. The "clean-to" will be utilized by the troop to store away camping supplies when not in use.

Troop 24 to Entertain Troop 48 on December 19

Demonstrations in scout work will be given by Boy Scout Troop 24 at an entertainment to be tendered by the members of Troop 48 on December 19.

These two troops recently visited Riverdale to hear a lecture and see a demonstration. Both visited Troop 7, to witness a demonstration. Scouts Firman Bailey and William Kelly have successfully passed the necessary tests for the "bugling" merit badge. The Black Hawk patrol, under the leadership of its chief and assistant, hiked to the Washington Navy Yard to visit the Constellation.

Assistant Scoutmaster Westledge and Scouts, Melvin Weisbrod, and George
